

European Human Rights Ambassadors' Statement On The Succession Of The Dalai Lama

As the Dalai Lama, a Nobel Peace Prize winner, turns 90, we reiterate that the right to freedom of religion or belief includes the freedom to choose religious leaders free from state interference. This includes the right of the Tibetan Buddhist community to identify a successor.

